Indian detour

Newest Way to See Oldest America, on Your Santa Fe Way to and from California

A three days' personally conducted motor trip through oldest America, visiting ancient Indian Pueblos and prehistoric cliff-dwellings in the New Mexico Rockies, between Las Vegas and Albuquerque, and forming a part of the Santa Fe transcontinental rail journey.

Under expert Santa Fe-Fred Harvey management.

This unusual tour comprises visits to old Santa Fe, also the inhabited Indian pueblos of Tesuque, Santa Clara, Santo Domingo and other places in the Upper Rio Grande Valley, as well as the huge ruin of Puye, a cliff pueblo twenty centuries old. Westbound passengers leave trains at Las Vegas, New Mex., and join them again at Albuquerque, New Mex., three days later. Eastbound is just the reverse.

In no other way can you see so much of a vast, fascinating region in so short a time, and with the same economy, the same comfort.

There are "motor land cruises" in charge of specially trained couriers for those who wish to extend their travels off-the-beaten-path.

May I send you copy of our new Indian-detour folder?
